BEST VALUE

The Compumatic XL1000 automatically calculates worked time between punches as well as accumulated totals for up to 50 active employees. Works with all popular pay periods (weekly, bi-weekly, semi-monthly, monthly). Calculates actual or rounded time, and supports an automatic break deduction from daily totals. Automatic card feed and print alignment eliminates operator mistakes and reduces time required to punch in and out.

OPTIONAL FEATURES:

- Rechargeable battery for punching when AC power is off.
- Signal Control:
Program internal signal (tone) or activate an external signal.
